Top Quality Service for Relocating Employees with Small Shipments

Even if your employees don't have homes full of furniture, they still deserve the best moving services available. That's why we offer northAmerican Corporate BlueExpress – an interstate moving services solution for relocating employees moving 4,000 pounds or less of belongings, at a price that works within your relocation budget.

Guaranteed load & delivery dates

Because of cost and scheduling issues, many companies choose to reimburse their employees for small Do-It-Yourself (DIY) moves. However, loading, driving and unloading a rental truck can be a tremendous strain on employees. It's a distraction that makes it harder for them to focus on their job and may delay their return to productivity.

With northAmerican Corporate BlueExpress, those hassles are eliminated. Our program offers:

- Guaranteed 8-12 day transit time.
- Day certain load and delivery dates.
- Packing services included. Unpacking services available upon request.
- Valuation coverage included.
- Dependable Service. If BlueExpress fails to deliver your employee's shipment on or before the agreed delivery date, or the last day of the agreed upon delivery period specified in the bill of lading, northAmerican will pay a penalty for late deliveries.

Plus, Corporate BlueExpress provides your employees guaranteed pricing based on a survey and a single point of contact manages all details, streamlining communication and simplifying management.

Reduce costs and simplify billing

When you add up all the costs of DIY moving – truck rental, insurance, gas, tolls, and hotels and meals – it's rarely as affordable as it seems, but always more stressful for your relocating employee.

With highly competitive rates, guaranteed price quotes*, no minimum weight charges and no fees for inside pick-up and delivery, northAmerican Corporate BlueExpress compares favorably to the cost of a DIY move. Additional discounts may be available based on your specific needs. Plus, invoices are direct billed to you, eliminating the need for reimbursement and extra paperwork.

* Billing based on actual shipment weight, not surveyed or estimated weight.

Proven reliability and service

With northAmerican Corporate BlueExpress, employees enjoy outstanding personal care and attention to detail. Professional crews carefully pack the employee's belongings in a sealed container and then load the container directly into an enclosed van, which can maneuver through smaller city streets and alleys, eliminating the cost and inconvenience of an additional shuttle.

You and your employees deserve the best solution for small shipments: northAmerican Corporate BlueExpress
